STORM TREE DAMAGE TIPS

Mother Nature has already sent storms our way this season, complete with heavy rains and high winds. Some people had little or no damage, while others were not so lucky! Tree damage ranges from broken limbs here and there to entire trees being uprooted. The weather service says that there are more storms to come before the season ends. Listed below are some important points to remember should you experience damage to your residence:

- Secure the area and inform everyone to stay away. Large limbs that are broken and hanging can fall at any time.
- Contact the Code Enforcement Division of the City of Newark for a structural inspection.
- Uprooted trees lying on their sides can shift. Partially uprooted trees can fall at any moment. Do not let people in these areas until a professional has assessed and resolved the issue.
- Do not touch the fallen tree. It may have taken down power lines. These lines may be hidden, but they could still be energized.
- Call the professionals! You will need a reputable and qualified tree care company. Do not cut up storm damaged trees or limbs. Often times there are spring-loaded forces that can cause serious injury if not handled properly. Depending on where the tree lands, you may need a roofer, electrician, or carpenter. Make sure these contractors are licensed. The answers to the following questions can help relieve some of the stress associated with storm damage:

1. How will the work be performed?
2. Are you insured? Ask for current Certificate of Insurance.
3. When will the work be started and completed?

venue for local musicians and demonstration groups. A food court will have a variety of foods. Fine Art and Homemade Craft vendors will be displaying and selling their creations. The Children's Area is always a big hit with Scarecrow Making and more. Community Information booths and activities are supplied by a variety of local businesses and organizations. Vendors are still needed! This is a great way for local businesses, organizations, fine artists, crafters and more to showcase their organization and sell their wares to area residents. The rain date for the event is scheduled for Sunday, Sep. 24. Vendor packages are available at www.newarkde.gov/play. For more information call the Parks and Recreation Office at (302) 366-7000 or email parksrec@newark.de.us.
