Summary:

On the above listed date and time, Newark Police were dispatched to the above location for a burglar alarm. Responding officers found that the front door to the business had been shattered. Officers canvassed the area and located Robert Affeldt walking in the parking lot of a business in the 1100 block of S College Ave. Affeldt was taken into custody and subsequently linked to a burglary at the business. A later review of surveillance video revealed that Affeldt had entered the business and removed liquor from within.

Affeldt was charged with the above listed charges, which include one count of Breach of Release. Affeldt was recently arrested by Newark Police on July 12, 2008 for committing a similar burglary at the same business. In that case, Affeldt was arrested for burglary and committed to HRYCI. As part of his bail conditions upon his release, Affeldt had been ordered not to have contact with 896 Liquors.

Affeldt's arraignment is pending and bail information is not available.
